Dear Shareholder,

You will have received several letters from us as the directors of Fairfield Sentry Limited (the "Company"). These letters were sent as events unfolded regarding Bernard L. Madoff Investments Securities LLC ("BMIS"). The purpose of this letter is to now provide a significant level of additional information so that shareholders are aware of the actions being taken by the Company and its directors. As this letter contains detailed information concerning the Company, it should be considered confidential.

Management

As a preliminary matter, we believe that it would be beneficial for you to understand how the Company is being managed at this time. As you are likely aware, the Company has three directors, Walter Noel, Peter Schmid and Jan Naess. Walter Noel is a principal of the Fairfield Greenwich Group. Peter Schmid and Jan Naess are the independent (non-executive) directors and have no financial interest in Fairfield Greenwich (Bermuda) Limited (the "Manager") or Fairfield Greenwich Group.

The board of directors has assumed responsibility for the management of the Company. We are meeting on a regular basis to discuss the affairs of the Company. Walter Noel has not attended these meetings and has recused himself from such meetings since the events of December 11, 2008. We have also amended the signing authority on the bank account with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch to ensure that no funds are wired out of this account without the approval of either of the independent directors, Peter Schmid or Jan Naess. We continue to work closely with the Manager, in particular to liquidate the remaining assets of the Company (discussed further below). We are also working closely with the administrator, Citco Fund Services (Europe) B.V., in this regard. We value these relationships. However, we are also acting independently recognising that we owe our duties to the Company.

Background

On October 31, 2008 the published net asset value of the Company was US$7,283,393,967 resulting in a net asset value per share of US$1,349.7782. On December 11, 2008, Bernard L. Madoff was arrested. On December 18, 2008 the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value with a consequential suspension on subscriptions and redemptions. The November 30, 2008 net asset value had not been calculated by the time of such suspension.

February 4, 2009

Current Assets

The Company currently has cash at a bank account with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch in the amount of US$67,179,754 (which includes the proceeds of subscription of the December 1, 2008 and January 2, 2009 subscribers which are not assets of the Company – see below). The Company has investments, other than with BMIS, with a value as at November 30, 2008 of US$81,723,813. Of these investments, US$55,947,567 represents investments in the Non-SSC Investments as defined on page 10 of the private placement memorandum of the Company. The Company has liabilities as at November 30, 2008 in the amount of US$62,211,252, which includes a liability to the Manager in the amount of US$61,403,895 being management and performance fees payable to the Manager the payment of which was deferred by the Manager.

Potential Claims

In addition to the foregoing assets held directly by the Company, the Company recognises it may be able to realise assets from each of the following:

- (a) The Company is currently analysing its position with respect to Securities Investor Protection Corporation (“SIPC”). In particular, it is making a determination as to whether it is likely to receive cash from SIPC or whether it is likely that there will be a clawback from SIPC. The filing deadline is March 4, 2009. Prior to this time, the Company will make a decision as to whether it is in the Company’s best interest to make a filing with SIPC and proceed accordingly. Please see below for a discussion as to whether shareholders of or investors in the Company should individually file with SIPC.
- (b) We also recognise that there may be claims available to the Company which may be pursued in order to recover the losses of the Company. We have retained legal counsel in several jurisdictions to examine potential causes of action and will pursue all lawsuits where there is a likelihood of success on a cost effective basis. However, we are proceeding cautiously and carefully with respect to both when and how to bring such actions. Unfortunately, we cannot provide further information at this time so as not to prejudice any such actions or the Company, but as soon as we are able to do so, we will communicate further in this regard.
- (c) In addition, the Company is exploring whether it is able to make any claims with the Internal Revenue Services for overpayment of taxes (ie United States withholding tax paid on dividend income purportedly by the Company through BMIS). All such claims will be pursued to the extent that it is appropriate for the Company to do so.

Otherwise, we confirm that we will take any and all actions which are appropriate to recover the losses of the Company.

SIPC and You

By Order dated December 15, 2008, the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, authorised SIPC to commence a liquidation proceeding against BMIS under the United States Securities Investor Protection Act ("SIPA") and appointed Irving Picard, Esq. as the trustee to oversee the liquidation proceeding (the "SIPC Trustee"). SIPC, a nonprofit United States corporation funded by assessments on brokerage firms, protects investors against financial losses arising from insolvency of their brokers. SIPC reimburses customers of brokers for up to US$100,000 for cash and up to US$500,000 for securities in their accounts when their brokerage firms become insolvent.

SIPA provides protection to those who meet the statutory definition of a "customer". The Company had brokerage accounts with BMIS. Therefore it qualifies as a "customer" under SIPA. We have received several inquiries from shareholders about whether they should be filing claims with SIPC individually.

The Company does not know whether the SIPC Trustee is going to consider indirect investors such as the shareholders of the Company as meeting the statutory definition of "customer". Accordingly, the Company has reached out to the SIPC Trustee to inquire as to his position on this issue. As yet, we have not received any advice on this issue from the SIPC Trustee. We understand from published reports that the SIPC Board met Friday, January 30, 2009 to discuss how claims will be treated, and possibly, whether indirect investors will be treated as "customers".

Given the uncertainty in how claims will be handled, you may wish to consider filing a claim with SIPC. For your convenience, we have attached a claim form to this letter, along with instructions on how to complete it. The Company's BMIS account numbers are 1-FN012-3-0; 1-FN045-3-0; 1-FN-069-4-0; and 1-FN-070-4-0.

Please be advised that neither the Company nor its counsel represent you individually and will not give legal advice in connection with the filing of a claim with SIPC. You should seek advice from your own lawyer or advisor before you decide whether to file a claim with SIPC as the filing may have implications for you concerning, among other things, the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court over possible attempts by the SIPC Trustee to recover withdrawals you have made from the Company.

November 30 Redeemers, December 31 Redeemers and Shareholders

As indicated above, the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value of the Company on December 18, 2008. As a result, the December 31, 2008 redeeming shareholders as well as all other shareholders continue to be shareholders of the Company. With respect to the November 30, 2008 redeemers, the payment of their proceeds of redemption has been suspended pursuant to the suspension of the calculation of net asset value and article 10(1)(c) of the articles of association of the Company.

February 4, 2009

Once the Company is in a position to effect redemptions, which may take several years, it is anticipated that all shares will be redeemed at the same time. The result of this is that all shareholders, including the November 30, 2008 redeeming shareholders, the December 31, 2008 redeeming shareholders and the continuing shareholders, should all receive cash at the same time and share pro rata in the assets of the Company.

December 1 and January 2 Subscribers

The Company received proceeds of subscription for both the December 1, 2008 and the January 2, 2009 dealing day. The directors have sought advice from both British Virgin Islands counsel, Conyers Dill & Pearman, as well as from Queen's Counsel in London, Richard Millet QC, concerning the nature of such assets. We have carefully considered the facts surrounding such proceeds of subscription. We have been advised by both Conyers Dill & Pearman and Richard Millet QC and we have concluded that such proceeds of subscription are not in fact assets of the Company. Rather, they are assets held in trust by the Company and should be returned to such subscribers. It is our intention to return such proceeds of subscription as soon as is practicable.

Dutch Court Order

In the desire to provide full information to shareholders, we have to advise you of a court order freezing the bank account of the Company maintained with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch obtained by a shareholder of the Company. This court order has frozen the cash in this account. This court order is having a serious detrimental effect on the Company, as it is causing amongst other matters, delays in the Company's ability to retain counsel and pursue potential lawsuits. The effect of this court order is that the Company does not have any cash to pay expenses nor the ability to return the proceeds of subscription to the December 1, 2008 and January 2, 2009 subscribers. The directors of the Company are currently in negotiations with this one investor and hope to resolve this issue soon for the benefit of all shareholders who will all be treated equitably.

Timeframe

As indicated above, the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value on December 18, 2008. This had the effect of stopping all cash flows from and to the shareholders of the Company. We are unable to advise as to when the Company will start to realise cash from its assets as described above, including from SIPC as well as any claims the Company may bring. This is likely to take several years. The directors will endeavour to distribute cash when possible, taking into account its cash requirements in order to fund continued operations, including lawsuits, as well contingent liabilities, such as potential clawbacks from SIPC. With this in mind, the directors do not envisage returning cash in the immediate future, but will do so once the directors have determined that it is appropriate to do so.

February 4, 2009

Conclusion

We wish to assure you that we are acting faithfully and working hard in your best interests. It is our intention to recover the losses of the Company to the greatest extent possible for your benefit.

Yours faithfully,

The Board of Directors

February 25th, 2009

Dear Shareholder,

We are writing to you now to advise you as to the position taken by the directors of the Company in connection with making a filing with Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"), as trustee for the liquidation of Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC ("BMIS").

As set out in previous correspondence, on December 15, 2008, the Honorable Louis L. Stanton, a Federal Judge in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, appointed Irving Picard, Esq. as SIPC Trustee for the liquidation of BMIS. SIPC, a non-profit United States corporation funded by assessments on brokerage firms, protects investors against financial losses arising from insolvency of their brokers. SIPC reimburses customers of brokers for up to US$100,000 for cash and up to US$500,000 for securities in their accounts when their brokerage firms become insolvent.

In addition, because the SIPC proceeding is part of the bankruptcy proceeding of BMIS, the SIPC Trustee is also responsible for distributing any assets recovered from the bankruptcy of BMIS to the creditors of BMIS on a pro rata basis. By making a filing, the Company will be claiming as a creditor of BMIS its pro rata portion of the monies recovered by the Trustee for the estate, subject to claims the Trustee may allege against the Company as set forth below.

To maximize the assets of BMIS that will be distributed to customers and creditors on a pro rata basis, the SIPC Trustee may commence adversary proceedings under United States law against certain customers and creditors which received payments from BMIS. In particular, the Trustee may claim that payments made within ninety days prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition, being the period from September 11, 2008 to December 11, 2008 (the "Preference Period"), are a "preference" under Section 547(b) of the United States Bankruptcy Code (the "Bankruptcy Code"). The SIPC Trustee would seek the return to the greatest extent possible any such alleged preference. The Trustee may also seek the return of certain monies paid to investors within two years prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition under Section 548(b) of the Bankruptcy Code as well as six years under New York State law, claiming such monies were fraudulent conveyances under those relevant provisions.

It was necessary for the directors of the Company to consider any possible recovery that the Company may receive from SIPC, as well as any possible payout that the Company may need to make to SIPC, and the ability of SIPC to assert claims against the Company for monies distributed to the Company during the preference and fraudulent conveyance periods in the event the Company did not make a SIPC filing. In addition, the directors of the Company had to consider the possible recovery of assets from other sources which could be in excess of any claims by the Trustee. After very careful consideration, the directors have taken the view that it is in the Company's best interest to file with SIPC, and it is the intention of the Company to file with SIPC as soon as is practicable.

We also note that on February 20, 2009, the SIPC Trustee held a meeting with customers and creditors of BMIS. In response to several inquiries about whether investors of feeder funds that invested with BMIS are considered to be "customers" of BMIS for purposes of filing a claim, the SIPC Trustee's position is that this class of investors are outside the definition of "customer" as set forth in 15 U.S.C. § 78 III (2). The SIPC Trustee explained that he is bound to follow the express terms of the statute and governing authorities narrowly interpreting the definition of "customer". However, the SIPC Trustee recommended that this class of investors file a claim by July 2, 2009 to preserve their rights in the event the statute is later reinterpreted or broadened to cover them as customers of BMIS. The SIPC Trustee observed that the issue may be subject to litigation. The SIPC Trustee stated that should an investor decide to file a claim, the investor should provide a narrative explaining the investor's situation and other supporting documentation. The SIPC Trustee emphasised that anyone considering filing a claim should consult counsel. Similarly, neither the Company nor its counsel represent you individually and will not give legal advice in connection with the filing of a claim with SIPC. You should seek advice from your own lawyer or advisor before you decide whether to file a claim with SIPC.

Otherwise, the directors continue to work in the best interests of the Company and all of its shareholders to recover the losses of the Company to the greatest extent possible.

Yours faithfully,

The Board of Directors

Dear Shareholder,

You will have received several letters from us as the directors of Fairfield Sentry Limited (the "Company"). These letters were sent as events unfolded regarding Bernard L. Madoff Investments Securities LLC ("BMIS"). The purpose of this letter is to now provide a significant level of additional information so that shareholders are aware of the actions being taken by the Company and its directors. As this letter contains detailed information concerning the Company, it should be considered confidential.

Management

As a preliminary matter, we believe that it would be beneficial for you to understand how the Company is being managed at this time. As you are likely aware, the Company has three directors, Walter Noel, Peter Schmid and Jan Naess. Walter Noel is a principal of the Fairfield Greenwich Group. Peter Schmid and Jan Naess are the independent (non-executive) directors and have no financial interest in Fairfield Greenwich (Bermuda) Limited (the "Manager") or Fairfield Greenwich Group.

The board of directors has assumed responsibility for the management of the Company. We are meeting on a regular basis to discuss the affairs of the Company. Walter Noel has not attended these meetings and has recused himself from such meetings since the events of December 11, 2008. We have also amended the signing authority on the bank account with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch to ensure that no funds are wired out of this account without the approval of either of the independent directors, Peter Schmid or Jan Naess. We continue to work closely with the Manager, in particular to liquidate the remaining assets of the Company (discussed further below). We are also working closely with the administrator, Citco Fund Services (Europe) B.V., in this regard. We value these relationships. However, we are also acting independently recognising that we owe our duties to the Company.

Background

On October 31, 2008 the published net asset value of the Company was US$7,283,393,967 resulting in a net asset value per share of US$1,349.7782. On December 11, 2008, Bernard L. Madoff was arrested. On December 18, 2008 the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value with a consequential suspension on subscriptions and redemptions. The November 30, 2008 net asset value had not been calculated by the time of such suspension.

February 4, 2009

Current Assets

The Company currently has cash at a bank account with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch in the amount of US$67,179,754 (which includes the proceeds of subscription of the December 1, 2008 and January 2, 2009 subscribers which are not assets of the Company – see below). The Company has investments, other than with BMIS, with a value as at November 30, 2008 of US$81,723,813. Of these investments, US$55,947,567 represents investments in the Non-SSC Investments as defined on page 10 of the private placement memorandum of the Company. The Company has liabilities as at November 30, 2008 in the amount of US$62,211,252, which includes a liability to the Manager in the amount of US$61,403,895 being management and performance fees payable to the Manager the payment of which was deferred by the Manager.

Potential Claims

In addition to the foregoing assets held directly by the Company, the Company recognises it may be able to realise assets from each of the following:

- (a) The Company is currently analysing its position with respect to Securities Investor Protection Corporation (“SIPC”). In particular, it is making a determination as to whether it is likely to receive cash from SIPC or whether it is likely that there will be a clawback from SIPC. The filing deadline is March 4, 2009. Prior to this time, the Company will make a decision as to whether it is in the Company’s best interest to make a filing with SIPC and proceed accordingly. Please see below for a discussion as to whether shareholders of or investors in the Company should individually file with SIPC.
- (b) We also recognise that there may be claims available to the Company which may be pursued in order to recover the losses of the Company. We have retained legal counsel in several jurisdictions to examine potential causes of action and will pursue all lawsuits where there is a likelihood of success on a cost effective basis. However, we are proceeding cautiously and carefully with respect to both when and how to bring such actions. Unfortunately, we cannot provide further information at this time so as not to prejudice any such actions or the Company, but as soon as we are able to do so, we will communicate further in this regard.
- (c) In addition, the Company is exploring whether it is able to make any claims with the Internal Revenue Services for overpayment of taxes (ie United States withholding tax paid on dividend income purportedly by the Company through BMIS). All such claims will be pursued to the extent that it is appropriate for the Company to do so.

Otherwise, we confirm that we will take any and all actions which are appropriate to recover the losses of the Company.

SIPC and You

By Order dated December 15, 2008, the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, authorised SIPC to commence a liquidation proceeding against BMIS under the United States Securities Investor Protection Act ("SIPA") and appointed Irving Picard, Esq. as the trustee to oversee the liquidation proceeding (the "SIPC Trustee"). SIPC, a nonprofit United States corporation funded by assessments on brokerage firms, protects investors against financial losses arising from insolvency of their brokers. SIPC reimburses customers of brokers for up to US$100,000 for cash and up to US$500,000 for securities in their accounts when their brokerage firms become insolvent.

SIPA provides protection to those who meet the statutory definition of a "customer". The Company had brokerage accounts with BMIS. Therefore it qualifies as a "customer" under SIPA. We have received several inquiries from shareholders about whether they should be filing claims with SIPC individually.

The Company does not know whether the SIPC Trustee is going to consider indirect investors such as the shareholders of the Company as meeting the statutory definition of "customer". Accordingly, the Company has reached out to the SIPC Trustee to inquire as to his position on this issue. As yet, we have not received any advice on this issue from the SIPC Trustee. We understand from published reports that the SIPC Board met Friday, January 30, 2009 to discuss how claims will be treated, and possibly, whether indirect investors will be treated as "customers".

Given the uncertainty in how claims will be handled, you may wish to consider filing a claim with SIPC. For your convenience, we have attached a claim form to this letter, along with instructions on how to complete it. The Company's BMIS account numbers are 1-FN012-3-0; 1-FN045-3-0; 1-FN-069-4-0; and 1-FN-070-4-0.

Please be advised that neither the Company nor its counsel represent you individually and will not give legal advice in connection with the filing of a claim with SIPC. You should seek advice from your own lawyer or advisor before you decide whether to file a claim with SIPC as the filing may have implications for you concerning, among other things, the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court over possible attempts by the SIPC Trustee to recover withdrawals you have made from the Company.

November 30 Redeemers, December 31 Redeemers and Shareholders

As indicated above, the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value of the Company on December 18, 2008. As a result, the December 31, 2008 redeeming shareholders as well as all other shareholders continue to be shareholders of the Company. With respect to the November 30, 2008 redeemers, the payment of their proceeds of redemption has been suspended pursuant to the suspension of the calculation of net asset value and article 10(1)(c) of the articles of association of the Company.

February 4, 2009

Once the Company is in a position to effect redemptions, which may take several years, it is anticipated that all shares will be redeemed at the same time. The result of this is that all shareholders, including the November 30, 2008 redeeming shareholders, the December 31, 2008 redeeming shareholders and the continuing shareholders, should all receive cash at the same time and share pro rata in the assets of the Company.

December 1 and January 2 Subscribers

The Company received proceeds of subscription for both the December 1, 2008 and the January 2, 2009 dealing day. The directors have sought advice from both British Virgin Islands counsel, Conyers Dill & Pearman, as well as from Queen's Counsel in London, Richard Millet QC, concerning the nature of such assets. We have carefully considered the facts surrounding such proceeds of subscription. We have been advised by both Conyers Dill & Pearman and Richard Millet QC and we have concluded that such proceeds of subscription are not in fact assets of the Company. Rather, they are assets held in trust by the Company and should be returned to such subscribers. It is our intention to return such proceeds of subscription as soon as is practicable.

Dutch Court Order

In the desire to provide full information to shareholders, we have to advise you of a court order freezing the bank account of the Company maintained with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch obtained by a shareholder of the Company. This court order has frozen the cash in this account. This court order is having a serious detrimental effect on the Company, as it is causing amongst other matters, delays in the Company's ability to retain counsel and pursue potential lawsuits. The effect of this court order is that the Company does not have any cash to pay expenses nor the ability to return the proceeds of subscription to the December 1, 2008 and January 2, 2009 subscribers. The directors of the Company are currently in negotiations with this one investor and hope to resolve this issue soon for the benefit of all shareholders who will all be treated equitably.

Timeframe

As indicated above, the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value on December 18, 2008. This had the effect of stopping all cash flows from and to the shareholders of the Company. We are unable to advise as to when the Company will start to realise cash from its assets as described above, including from SIPC as well as any claims the Company may bring. This is likely to take several years. The directors will endeavour to distribute cash when possible, taking into account its cash requirements in order to fund continued operations, including lawsuits, as well contingent liabilities, such as potential clawbacks from SIPC. With this in mind, the directors do not envisage returning cash in the immediate future, but will do so once the directors have determined that it is appropriate to do so.

February 4, 2009

Conclusion

We wish to assure you that we are acting faithfully and working hard in your best interests. It is our intention to recover the losses of the Company to the greatest extent possible for your benefit.

Yours faithfully,

The Board of Directors

February 25th, 2009

Dear Shareholder,

We are writing to you now to advise you as to the position taken by the directors of the Company in connection with making a filing with Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"), as trustee for the liquidation of Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC ("BMIS").

As set out in previous correspondence, on December 15, 2008, the Honorable Louis L. Stanton, a Federal Judge in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, appointed Irving Picard, Esq. as SIPC Trustee for the liquidation of BMIS. SIPC, a non-profit United States corporation funded by assessments on brokerage firms, protects investors against financial losses arising from insolvency of their brokers. SIPC reimburses customers of brokers for up to US$100,000 for cash and up to US$500,000 for securities in their accounts when their brokerage firms become insolvent.

In addition, because the SIPC proceeding is part of the bankruptcy proceeding of BMIS, the SIPC Trustee is also responsible for distributing any assets recovered from the bankruptcy of BMIS to the creditors of BMIS on a pro rata basis. By making a filing, the Company will be claiming as a creditor of BMIS its pro rata portion of the monies recovered by the Trustee for the estate, subject to claims the Trustee may allege against the Company as set forth below.

To maximize the assets of BMIS that will be distributed to customers and creditors on a pro rata basis, the SIPC Trustee may commence adversary proceedings under United States law against certain customers and creditors which received payments from BMIS. In particular, the Trustee may claim that payments made within ninety days prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition, being the period from September 11, 2008 to December 11, 2008 (the "Preference Period"), are a "preference" under Section 547(b) of the United States Bankruptcy Code (the "Bankruptcy Code"). The SIPC Trustee would seek the return to the greatest extent possible any such alleged preference. The Trustee may also seek the return of certain monies paid to investors within two years prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition under Section 548(b) of the Bankruptcy Code as well as six years under New York State law, claiming such monies were fraudulent conveyances under those relevant provisions.

It was necessary for the directors of the Company to consider any possible recovery that the Company may receive from SIPC, as well as any possible payout that the Company may need to make to SIPC, and the ability of SIPC to assert claims against the Company for monies distributed to the Company during the preference and fraudulent conveyance periods in the event the Company did not make a SIPC filing. In addition, the directors of the Company had to consider the possible recovery of assets from other sources which could be in excess of any claims by the Trustee. After very careful consideration, the directors have taken the view that it is in the Company's best interest to file with SIPC, and it is the intention of the Company to file with SIPC as soon as is practicable.

We also note that on February 20, 2009, the SIPC Trustee held a meeting with customers and creditors of BMIS. In response to several inquiries about whether investors of feeder funds that invested with BMIS are considered to be "customers" of BMIS for purposes of filing a claim, the SIPC Trustee's position is that this class of investors are outside the definition of "customer" as set forth in 15 U.S.C. § 78 III (2). The SIPC Trustee explained that he is bound to follow the express terms of the statute and governing authorities narrowly interpreting the definition of "customer". However, the SIPC Trustee recommended that this class of investors file a claim by July 2, 2009 to preserve their rights in the event the statute is later reinterpreted or broadened to cover them as customers of BMIS. The SIPC Trustee observed that the issue may be subject to litigation. The SIPC Trustee stated that should an investor decide to file a claim, the investor should provide a narrative explaining the investor's situation and other supporting documentation. The SIPC Trustee emphasised that anyone considering filing a claim should consult counsel. Similarly, neither the Company nor its counsel represent you individually and will not give legal advice in connection with the filing of a claim with SIPC. You should seek advice from your own lawyer or advisor before you decide whether to file a claim with SIPC.

Otherwise, the directors continue to work in the best interests of the Company and all of its shareholders to recover the losses of the Company to the greatest extent possible.

Yours faithfully,

The Board of Directors

Dear Shareholder,

You will have received several letters from us as the directors of Fairfield Sentry Limited (the "Company"). These letters were sent as events unfolded regarding Bernard L. Madoff Investments Securities LLC ("BMIS"). The purpose of this letter is to now provide a significant level of additional information so that shareholders are aware of the actions being taken by the Company and its directors. As this letter contains detailed information concerning the Company, it should be considered confidential.

Management

As a preliminary matter, we believe that it would be beneficial for you to understand how the Company is being managed at this time. As you are likely aware, the Company has three directors, Walter Noel, Peter Schmid and Jan Naess. Walter Noel is a principal of the Fairfield Greenwich Group. Peter Schmid and Jan Naess are the independent (non-executive) directors and have no financial interest in Fairfield Greenwich (Bermuda) Limited (the "Manager") or Fairfield Greenwich Group.

The board of directors has assumed responsibility for the management of the Company. We are meeting on a regular basis to discuss the affairs of the Company. Walter Noel has not attended these meetings and has recused himself from such meetings since the events of December 11, 2008. We have also amended the signing authority on the bank account with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch to ensure that no funds are wired out of this account without the approval of either of the independent directors, Peter Schmid or Jan Naess. We continue to work closely with the Manager, in particular to liquidate the remaining assets of the Company (discussed further below). We are also working closely with the administrator, Citco Fund Services (Europe) B.V., in this regard. We value these relationships. However, we are also acting independently recognising that we owe our duties to the Company.

Background

On October 31, 2008 the published net asset value of the Company was US$7,283,393,967 resulting in a net asset value per share of US$1,349.7782. On December 11, 2008, Bernard L. Madoff was arrested. On December 18, 2008 the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value with a consequential suspension on subscriptions and redemptions. The November 30, 2008 net asset value had not been calculated by the time of such suspension.

February 4, 2009

Current Assets

The Company currently has cash at a bank account with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch in the amount of US$67,179,754 (which includes the proceeds of subscription of the December 1, 2008 and January 2, 2009 subscribers which are not assets of the Company – see below). The Company has investments, other than with BMIS, with a value as at November 30, 2008 of US$81,723,813. Of these investments, US$55,947,567 represents investments in the Non-SSC Investments as defined on page 10 of the private placement memorandum of the Company. The Company has liabilities as at November 30, 2008 in the amount of US$62,211,252, which includes a liability to the Manager in the amount of US$61,403,895 being management and performance fees payable to the Manager the payment of which was deferred by the Manager.

Potential Claims

In addition to the foregoing assets held directly by the Company, the Company recognises it may be able to realise assets from each of the following:

- (a) The Company is currently analysing its position with respect to Securities Investor Protection Corporation (“SIPC”). In particular, it is making a determination as to whether it is likely to receive cash from SIPC or whether it is likely that there will be a clawback from SIPC. The filing deadline is March 4, 2009. Prior to this time, the Company will make a decision as to whether it is in the Company’s best interest to make a filing with SIPC and proceed accordingly. Please see below for a discussion as to whether shareholders of or investors in the Company should individually file with SIPC.
- (b) We also recognise that there may be claims available to the Company which may be pursued in order to recover the losses of the Company. We have retained legal counsel in several jurisdictions to examine potential causes of action and will pursue all lawsuits where there is a likelihood of success on a cost effective basis. However, we are proceeding cautiously and carefully with respect to both when and how to bring such actions. Unfortunately, we cannot provide further information at this time so as not to prejudice any such actions or the Company, but as soon as we are able to do so, we will communicate further in this regard.
- (c) In addition, the Company is exploring whether it is able to make any claims with the Internal Revenue Services for overpayment of taxes (ie United States withholding tax paid on dividend income purportedly by the Company through BMIS). All such claims will be pursued to the extent that it is appropriate for the Company to do so.

Otherwise, we confirm that we will take any and all actions which are appropriate to recover the losses of the Company.

SIPC and You

By Order dated December 15, 2008, the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, authorised SIPC to commence a liquidation proceeding against BMIS under the United States Securities Investor Protection Act ("SIPA") and appointed Irving Picard, Esq. as the trustee to oversee the liquidation proceeding (the "SIPC Trustee"). SIPC, a nonprofit United States corporation funded by assessments on brokerage firms, protects investors against financial losses arising from insolvency of their brokers. SIPC reimburses customers of brokers for up to US$100,000 for cash and up to US$500,000 for securities in their accounts when their brokerage firms become insolvent.

SIPA provides protection to those who meet the statutory definition of a "customer". The Company had brokerage accounts with BMIS. Therefore it qualifies as a "customer" under SIPA. We have received several inquiries from shareholders about whether they should be filing claims with SIPC individually.

The Company does not know whether the SIPC Trustee is going to consider indirect investors such as the shareholders of the Company as meeting the statutory definition of "customer". Accordingly, the Company has reached out to the SIPC Trustee to inquire as to his position on this issue. As yet, we have not received any advice on this issue from the SIPC Trustee. We understand from published reports that the SIPC Board met Friday, January 30, 2009 to discuss how claims will be treated, and possibly, whether indirect investors will be treated as "customers".

Given the uncertainty in how claims will be handled, you may wish to consider filing a claim with SIPC. For your convenience, we have attached a claim form to this letter, along with instructions on how to complete it. The Company's BMIS account numbers are 1-FN012-3-0; 1-FN045-3-0; 1-FN-069-4-0; and 1-FN-070-4-0.

Please be advised that neither the Company nor its counsel represent you individually and will not give legal advice in connection with the filing of a claim with SIPC. You should seek advice from your own lawyer or advisor before you decide whether to file a claim with SIPC as the filing may have implications for you concerning, among other things, the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court over possible attempts by the SIPC Trustee to recover withdrawals you have made from the Company.

November 30 Redeemers, December 31 Redeemers and Shareholders

As indicated above, the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value of the Company on December 18, 2008. As a result, the December 31, 2008 redeeming shareholders as well as all other shareholders continue to be shareholders of the Company. With respect to the November 30, 2008 redeemers, the payment of their proceeds of redemption has been suspended pursuant to the suspension of the calculation of net asset value and article 10(1)(c) of the articles of association of the Company.

February 4, 2009

Once the Company is in a position to effect redemptions, which may take several years, it is anticipated that all shares will be redeemed at the same time. The result of this is that all shareholders, including the November 30, 2008 redeeming shareholders, the December 31, 2008 redeeming shareholders and the continuing shareholders, should all receive cash at the same time and share pro rata in the assets of the Company.

December 1 and January 2 Subscribers

The Company received proceeds of subscription for both the December 1, 2008 and the January 2, 2009 dealing day. The directors have sought advice from both British Virgin Islands counsel, Conyers Dill & Pearman, as well as from Queen's Counsel in London, Richard Millet QC, concerning the nature of such assets. We have carefully considered the facts surrounding such proceeds of subscription. We have been advised by both Conyers Dill & Pearman and Richard Millet QC and we have concluded that such proceeds of subscription are not in fact assets of the Company. Rather, they are assets held in trust by the Company and should be returned to such subscribers. It is our intention to return such proceeds of subscription as soon as is practicable.

Dutch Court Order

In the desire to provide full information to shareholders, we have to advise you of a court order freezing the bank account of the Company maintained with Citco Bank Nederland N.V. Dublin Branch obtained by a shareholder of the Company. This court order has frozen the cash in this account. This court order is having a serious detrimental effect on the Company, as it is causing amongst other matters, delays in the Company's ability to retain counsel and pursue potential lawsuits. The effect of this court order is that the Company does not have any cash to pay expenses nor the ability to return the proceeds of subscription to the December 1, 2008 and January 2, 2009 subscribers. The directors of the Company are currently in negotiations with this one investor and hope to resolve this issue soon for the benefit of all shareholders who will all be treated equitably.

Timeframe

As indicated above, the Company suspended the calculation of net asset value on December 18, 2008. This had the effect of stopping all cash flows from and to the shareholders of the Company. We are unable to advise as to when the Company will start to realise cash from its assets as described above, including from SIPC as well as any claims the Company may bring. This is likely to take several years. The directors will endeavour to distribute cash when possible, taking into account its cash requirements in order to fund continued operations, including lawsuits, as well contingent liabilities, such as potential clawbacks from SIPC. With this in mind, the directors do not envisage returning cash in the immediate future, but will do so once the directors have determined that it is appropriate to do so.

February 4, 2009

Conclusion

We wish to assure you that we are acting faithfully and working hard in your best interests. It is our intention to recover the losses of the Company to the greatest extent possible for your benefit.

Yours faithfully,

The Board of Directors

February 25th, 2009

Dear Shareholder,

We are writing to you now to advise you as to the position taken by the directors of the Company in connection with making a filing with Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"), as trustee for the liquidation of Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC ("BMIS").

As set out in previous correspondence, on December 15, 2008, the Honorable Louis L. Stanton, a Federal Judge in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, appointed Irving Picard, Esq. as SIPC Trustee for the liquidation of BMIS. SIPC, a non-profit United States corporation funded by assessments on brokerage firms, protects investors against financial losses arising from insolvency of their brokers. SIPC reimburses customers of brokers for up to US$100,000 for cash and up to US$500,000 for securities in their accounts when their brokerage firms become insolvent.

In addition, because the SIPC proceeding is part of the bankruptcy proceeding of BMIS, the SIPC Trustee is also responsible for distributing any assets recovered from the bankruptcy of BMIS to the creditors of BMIS on a pro rata basis. By making a filing, the Company will be claiming as a creditor of BMIS its pro rata portion of the monies recovered by the Trustee for the estate, subject to claims the Trustee may allege against the Company as set forth below.

To maximize the assets of BMIS that will be distributed to customers and creditors on a pro rata basis, the SIPC Trustee may commence adversary proceedings under United States law against certain customers and creditors which received payments from BMIS. In particular, the Trustee may claim that payments made within ninety days prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition, being the period from September 11, 2008 to December 11, 2008 (the "Preference Period"), are a "preference" under Section 547(b) of the United States Bankruptcy Code (the "Bankruptcy Code"). The SIPC Trustee would seek the return to the greatest extent possible any such alleged preference. The Trustee may also seek the return of certain monies paid to investors within two years prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition under Section 548(b) of the Bankruptcy Code as well as six years under New York State law, claiming such monies were fraudulent conveyances under those relevant provisions.

It was necessary for the directors of the Company to consider any possible recovery that the Company may receive from SIPC, as well as any possible payout that the Company may need to make to SIPC, and the ability of SIPC to assert claims against the Company for monies distributed to the Company during the preference and fraudulent conveyance periods in the event the Company did not make a SIPC filing. In addition, the directors of the Company had to consider the possible recovery of assets from other sources which could be in excess of any claims by the Trustee. After very careful consideration, the directors have taken the view that it is in the Company's best interest to file with SIPC, and it is the intention of the Company to file with SIPC as soon as is practicable.

We also note that on February 20, 2009, the SIPC Trustee held a meeting with customers and creditors of BMIS. In response to several inquiries about whether investors of feeder funds that invested with BMIS are considered to be "customers" of BMIS for purposes of filing a claim, the SIPC Trustee's position is that this class of investors are outside the definition of "customer" as set forth in 15 U.S.C. § 78 Ill (2). The SIPC Trustee explained that he is bound to follow the express terms of the statute and governing authorities narrowly interpreting the definition of "customer". However, the SIPC Trustee recommended that this class of investors file a claim by July 2, 2009 to preserve their rights in the event the statute is later reinterpreted or broadened to cover them as customers of BMIS. The SIPC Trustee observed that the issue may be subject to litigation. The SIPC Trustee stated that should an investor decide to file a claim, the investor should provide a narrative explaining the investor's situation and other supporting documentation. The SIPC Trustee emphasised that anyone considering filing a claim should consult counsel. Similarly, neither the Company nor its counsel represent you individually and will not give legal advice in connection with the filing of a claim with SIPC. You should seek advice from your own lawyer or advisor before you decide whether to file a claim with SIPC.

Otherwise, the directors continue to work in the best interests of the Company and all of its shareholders to recover the losses of the Company to the greatest extent possible.

Yours faithfully,

The Board of Directors
